Mr. Harry Stern,
c/o L. Bamberger & Co.,
Newark, N.J.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Liveright has asked me to let you know about your Confederate twenty-dollar bill. This bill is not at all rare, it being worth in numismatic circles only a few cents, the reason for this being that the issues of 1864 were very large and were never redeemed; therefore, countless thousands are still extant.

Very truly yours,

Curator
